A horse that is naturally courageous may be made cowardly by abuse. If he often receives blows the fear of them is uppermost and any unknown noise imagined to be a coming hurt, to escape which is an uncontrollable impulse.

Since the Government has paid so much attention to lotteries their business has increased. This month the Little Lottery of San Francisco issues double the number of tickets, and the entire nation is laughing at the anti-lottery law.

Jones and Reed, the two men who attempted to jump the town and beat restaurants and stores out of their dues, after languishing in the county jail for several weeks, "dug up" the money, liquidated their indebtedness and were discharged from custody, much wiser if not more honest from their experience.—Reveille.

Of the unclaimed and undelivered mail matter received at the Dead Letter Office during the past fiscal year, 80,000 were parcels of merchandise, books, clothing, needle-work, jewelry, etc., etc., many of which were misdirected, while others were without wrapper, having been insecurely inclosed, and others from which the address had become separated and lost.

Professor Koch has already dismissed as completely cured several of the patients whom he had been treating for consumption, and preliminary work in the hospitals and clinics of Berlin is now being divided up among eminent physicians. There seems to be no reason to doubt the genuineness of the discovery, and it is almost impossible to conceive the benefit which will accrue to humanity when the method of treatment shall have been made known and patient workers equipped for their curative task everywhere.

It has been suggested by quite a number of prominent tax-payers that the law should be so amended as to make taxes payable in two installments, say in November and May. There is much, too, to be said in favor of the proposition. Take it in this county, for instance, and there are $50,000 or more tied up that is taken out of circulation that the State or county does not need for six months to come; still it is locked up in the vaults, there to remain, doing no one any good. If half the taxes were made payable in November and the other half six months later, we believe it would be better all around.

Charges Disposed of

The charges of the Examiner against the U. S. Mint are thus disposed of in the annual report of the Mint Director:

The Director of the Mint states at the request of certain stockholders of Comstock mines, he sent an impartial man to Carson, instructing him to confer with the attorney of the stockholders and get any points he could and investigate the charges that the officials of the Carson Mint were in collusion with the Comstock mill ring.

The gentleman reported, after a full and thorough investigation, that there was not the slightest evidence of illusion or impropriety upon the part of the Carson Mint officials, and not one of the persons to whom the Attorney referred him, could or would state a single circumstance showing any impropriety on the part of the Mint officers.

Moreover, the Director of the Mint writes that he has not only given the stockholders an abstract of every deposit of bullion, name of depositor, etc., but he has instructed the Superintendent of the Mint at Carson, to afford them free access to the original books and papers of the Mint and to afford them every facility for tracing the deposits.

Do You Want to Discuss It?

The office-seeking leech, Sam Davis, bobs up again for position. He wants to be Sargeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Doubtless thinks he ought to be rewarded for voting against Colcord and Wells.—Tribune.

We will give the Tribune $100 if it will produce a single Senator whose support we have solicited for any office, and $100 more for any Senator whose support we will solicit between now and the meeting of the Legislature. The assertion that we voted against Colcord is equally untrue. We voted for him because we considered him competent and honest. We voted against Wells because we considered him—in company with several hundred other Republican voters—wholly unfit for the position. If the Tribune insists on further discussion of this question we are fully prepared to proceed with it.

Rewarded for Bravery.

Richard H. Jackson, whom the President, by Act of Congress, has been authorized to appoint an Ensign in the navy, is one of the heroes who were revealed by the memorable storm at Apia, Samoa. At a critical moment, when the Trenton was about to drift on a reef, he led the men aloft, where their bodies had the effect of a sail, and this saved the ship. Admiral Kimberly says that he not only saved the Trenton's crew, but also that of the Vandalia, who would all have been lost had not the Trenton drifted alongside and rescued her men.

Try It.

By covering bullets with vaseline they may be seen in their course from the rifle to the target. Their trajectory course is marked by a beautiful ring of smoke, caused by the vaseline being ignited on leaving the muzzle of the gun, the smoke being suspended for some time in the air, if not too windy.

The above is from the Scientific American. It is printed as a suggestion to our local markemen.

A clean butcher shop goes far towards keeping the meat fresh. Flies will not gather where things are clean. M. C. Gardner, Jr., has just such a market, where the finest lamb, beef, mutton, pork, sausage, etc., can be secured at any time. ntf
